Creamers Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary Here

(By Family Reporter)

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Creamer celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Saturday, September 8, at their home in Comanche. As a surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Creamer, their children had arranged for a mock wedding ceremony and had on hand Rev. E. G. Gregory, Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church of Comanche, who in a most clever manner read the marriage rites, pronouncing them permanently man and wife after a trial marriage of 50 years.

The bride was gorgeously arrayed in a white cotton wash frock and carried a bridal bouquet of carrots, celery, onions, and one Old Maid, the bouquet having been arranged by the Hampton Floral Shop. The groom was handsomely attired in a blue sack suit with matching suspenders and socks.

Following the ceremony, the minister presented his bill for $50; and the groom, always a shrewd business man, compromised for twenty dollars cash which the minister in turn presented to the bride, leaving the groom "holding the sack". Pictures of the charming couple were made by Burk's Studio and the couple was then showered with rice.

A parade through town with a sign, "Just Married" marking the bridal car, continued on to the Creamer country home, six miles east of Comanche where the wedding feast was enjoyed at the Peacock Ranch. Immediately after the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Creamer left for parts unknown, returning three days later and they are not at home to their friends at 408 West College Avenue, Comanche, when not found at their Peacock Ranch.

All members of the immediate Creamer family were present for the ceremony, except a daughter, Mrs. Ray Burlingame and husband and daughter Laylah, of Los Angeles, California, and a son-in-law, T. H. Card of Deming, New Mexico. Children present included Mrs. L. H. Card of Deming, New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Creamer of Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Springstead of Comanche, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Creamer of San Saba; and Neona and Cleo Springstead, grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Creamer were originally married September 8, 1895, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Taylor in Comanche County in what is now the Creamer community. The ceremony was performed by the late Rev. John McKay, a Freeville Baptist minister. Mr. and Mrs. Creamer went to housekeeping soon after their marriage in the Creamer community and have lived on the old homestead since with the exception of about 20 years spent in the San Saba section beginning about 1915. Mrs. Creamer, before her marriage was Laura Madaline Taylor, a native of this county.

Mr. Creamer, 70, is also a native of Comanche County, having been born in the community named after his father, the late Jasper Creamer who also celebrated his golden wedding in the same community in December 1916, after having married in Alabama in 1866, three years before moving to Comanche County in 1869. Uncle Jasper died in the Creamer community December 3, 1923. His wife passed away two years later.

Shooting in City Limits Unlawful, Mayor Declares

Hunting or shooting in the city limits of Comanche is unlawful, according to Mayor W. C. House, who in an announcement elsewhere in this issue calls attention to the penalty for this offense.

"Some people, especially dove hunters have recently violated this law," Mayor House said, "and the home of M. Coleman, former mayor, has been 'peppered' by shot recently from some hunter's gun."

Storage Tanks For Butane Co. Completed Here

Two new storage tanks were completed here this week for The Butane Company. The tanks, with a capacity of 2,000 gallons each, are located 1 mile out on the De Leon Highway, just outside of the Comanche city limits.

"The tanks are now full of fuel," says Charles Carter, local manager, "and we are now ready to start selling fuel from Comanche."

P. I. Matson, district sales manager of The Butane Company, announces that the firm will be operated by local men. In addition to Mr. Carter, as manager; Elmer Cottrell and Than Wilson will be connected with the organization, and in charge of installation and service.

"We have the exclusive right for distributing Servel Electrolux refrigerators, Thor laundry equipment, and several other appliances," continues Mr. Matson, who explains that just as soon as more merchandise is available and their new building, just north of the square, is completed, that they will open The Butane Company Appliance Store here.

Lt. Hilley Liberated, Now Giving Orders In Japanese City

Lt. Arthur Gayle Hilley, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hilley of Sidney, and for three years a prisoner of war of the Japanese, has been liberated according to Sam Kinch, foreign correspondent of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

In an article dated Osaka, Japan, September 6, appearing in Thursday morning's Star-Telegram, Lt. Hilley was listed as one of the officers helping run Osaka, a city of 3,000,000 people and was giving orders and taking bows from the Japs after having been their prisoner for three years.

His address along with about 39 other liberated American officers and enlisted men was given as Zentsugi Club, Osaka, Japan.

Tire Situation in County Becomes Serious: Take Care of Your Tires Says Waring, Rationing Board Head

"The end of the war has not eased the tire situation at all," says John D. Waring, Jr., head of the Comanche County War Price & Rationing Board, who explains that the Comanche County quota on passenger tires was reduced by nearly 100 tires for the month of September.

"Farmers and essential workers still have first call on tires," continues Mr. Waring, "and after last week's meeting, there were 228 applications left over after all the quota had been issued."

A letter to a local dealer from his wholesaler states, "The production of all tires and tubes has been further impaired by a strike in the Akron plants, which started September 4, and is still in progress. This strike has completely stopped all production and shipping, and may continue for thirty days."

Pillowing extract in regard to the rubber situation is from the Akron Beacon Journal:

"Organized labor's national program for increased hourly wages to make up for loss in 'take-home' pay caused by reduction in work week hours received impetus from mtwo sources in Akron last week."

"The AFL Federal labor union asked the company for increased rates so that workers pay would be the same for a 40 hour week as they now receive for 48 hours."

"Good rich Local No. 5 announced that it would demand a straight 30% wage increase so that take-home pay on a 36 hour week would equal present straight time pay for 48 hours."

Pfc. Joe Magness Dies of Injuries In Car Accident

Pfc. Joe Magness, 24-year-old son of Mrs. John Magness of Comanche, was instantly killed in an automobile accident in Maryland last Thursday, September 6, and his two companions received injuries which were expected to prove fatal.

Pfc. Magness, a military policeman, had been stationed at Fort Meade, Maryland, since last December when he returned from more than two years service in the European Theater of Operations. Pfc. Magness was reported to have gone last Thursday to Popular Heights, Maryland, near his camp to do some shopping, and he and a military police sergeant from the camp were just 7 miles out from Fort Meade on their way back to camp when they were picked up by a civilian in his private car. While making a curve, reports said, the car overturned and Magness was instantly killed and the other two injured.

Pfc. Magness was reported due to be honorably discharged from the Army on Saturday, Sept. 8, his death coming only a few days before that date.

Impressive military funeral rites were reported held for Pfc. Magness at Fort Meade last Friday, his body being driven to the chapel in a carriage from Arlington National Cemetery funeral home, to which were hitched the famous six white horses used so often to convey a deceased soldier to military funeral homes near Washington.

The body was brought to Comanche and services were concluded at the local Church of Christ Tuesday afternoon under the direction of military personnel from Camp Bowie, assisted by Sgt. George S. Station who escorted the body from Fort Meade. The message was delivered by R. C. Ledbetter, minister of the Church of Christ.

Palbearers were Wallace Ham-mack, M. Coleman, Joe Marshall, W. H. Thate, Fred Thorp, and Albert Miller.

Interment was in Oakwood Cemetery.

A crowd that filled the auditorium of the church was present to pay tribute to the deceased soldier and the big floral offering attested to the high esteem in which he was held in Comanche.

The following sketch of the life of Pfc. Magness was read by Minister Ledbetter during the services:

Robert Joseph Magness was born November 28, 1921 in Comanche. He was the son of John and Maude Magness. He entered the service January 29, 1942 and served overseas 33 months, and served overseas 33 months, and would have received his discharge from the Army in two days. While serving in the Army he never complained of anything. Joe was a good boy and looked after his mother. Injuries he received on Sept. 6, 1945, proved fatal. He leaves to mourn his passing, his mother, Mrs. Maude Magness; one sister, Mrs. Johnnie McKinzie; Comanche; four brothers, Jim Magness, Brownwood; Wagner Magness, U. S. Army; Winlow Magness, Sipe Springs; and Jack Magness, U. S. Army; other relatives and a host of friends.

Wounded Veteran At Work With Peanut Thresher Crew Here

Staff Sergeant Ray Richmond, who is home on a sixty day convalescent furlough while recovering from a leg injury suffered in action against the Nazis in Germany last December 12, is spending his time here working with a peanut thresher crew, and getting in shape for his return to the Army.

He is visiting his brother, Millard Richmond, at Van Dyke.

Staff Sergeant Richmond suffered a severe shrapnel wound in his right leg while in Germany, and was hospitalized until he was released on furlough on August 13.

"He says that he wanted to do some good hard work so that he would be in good shape to resume his Army life at the end of the sixty days," says Millard Richmond, who explains that his brother just took a job tying out sacks with a peanut thresher crew, not only to help regain his own strength, but also to help out in the farm manpower shortage in this territory.

"He's making a real hand too," concludes Mr. Richmond.

AMERICAN LEGION TO HAVE SUPPER

All members of the American Legion and other discharged, service men are invited to attend a supper at Lake Eanes Park Thursday night, September 20 at 7:30. Please be on time and don't forget the date.

—B. A. Riley, Commander.

Following is a report by W. S. Price, Jr., Gustine, who was called to Washington, D. C., recently in behalf of the peanut industry.

The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation of the U.S.D.A. has been authorized by Congress to prepare a ninsurance program applicable to the production of peanuts. An advisory committee of farmers was called to Washington, D. C. offices of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation in early August to answer questions and offer suggestions for immediate establishment of a peanut insurance contract. All of the peanut producing areas of the United States were represented.

The Corporation plans to offer peanut insurance on the 1946 crop. The program is to be an experiment only. Twenty counties are to be selected from the entire production area as test plots. The reaction of the growers and results of operation of the program shall determine whether insurance contracts will be offered to farmers in general.

Comanche County has been recommended as one of the test counties. It is likely that two or three other counties in the State will receive recommendation.

There are to be two insurance contracts. One offers protection against a low yield, the other, protection against loss on investment. The rate of a insurance the producer shall pay will be determined by study of historical production of the farm for the years 1940-1944 inclusive. The rate for the 1944 contract will be of course higher than the rate for the investment contract. In no instance will the insurance contract offer protection in excess of a reasonable amount of yield or investment. The history of the yield of the farm and the actual investment cost of the producer shall govern the amount of protection.

The coverage of insurance will be 75% of the yield or investment. The period of protection shall be from planting to 21 days after threshing. The 21 day period after threshing applies to Texas onter threshing applies to the period of insurance ends 48 hours after threshing. Among of protection is divided according to stages of crop development. From planting to first cultivation the producer has 50% protection, after first cultivation to plowing up—70%, plowing up to 21 days after threshing—100%.

There is no insurance for the hay in the contract. Producers will be divided in brackets of efficiency; or, to state the case in plain words, each farm or producer will stand on its or his own record of performance.

The Comanche Chief

J. C. WILKERSON, Editor and Publisher
Established in 1873

Old time pre-war days must be on the waf back in Comanche. Last week Euell Arthur of the Arthur Chevrolet said, "Put in my advertisement this week. Plenty of parts, plenty of mechanics, bring in your car today."

Maybe it won't be long until somebody puts on a sale of laundry soap and shortening.

Ira Clemons of Clemons Motor Company says the new 1946 Ford which was shown this week at the Adolphus in Dallas is a "dandy".

Now, if somebody will just advertise, "A large assortment of men's shorts," maybe we may expect soon to find a lot of towels, sheets, and overalls in the drygoods stores.

But the best thing about the war's close, is to see so many of the fine young men who have been off to war coming back and others are writing back about the date they expect to get a discharge—sometimes, though it seems a long ways off.

Kyle Barret, who stayed in one foxhole three weeks and went through some of the toughest fighting in the Pacific, writes his mother, Mrs. Walter Barret, that it may be spring or summer before he is back in "good ole Comanche." He is now in Tokyo.

Voters of Callahan County evidently did not think much of the proposed amendment to increase the Legislature's pay, the vote on that proposition there being 7 for and 506 against.

Very few civic improvements have been made in many Texas towns during the war, but many are now planning progressive programs.

The sewer system in Comanche is now being extended to the Third Chaney Addition and to other parts of Northwest Comanche.

Maybe next year there will be some more street paving in Comanche.

We doubt that even a motorist appreciates a paved street any more than does a housewife. If she lives on a paved street she couldn't have to dust the entire house every time a car races by.

The Eastland High School football team will open the season at Mineral Wells tonight with a game against the Mountaineers.

We wonder if the prominent Fort Worth business man was just talking about Granbury when he visited the Hood County News-Tablet office last week and had the following conversation with Editor A. B. Crawford:

"Why are you folks neglecting your paved square. You used to have one of the nicest paved squares in the State and now you are letting it ruin by allowing holes to gradually get larger and every day they are neglected, the larger the holes will be and the more it will cost to repair," said the Fort Worth man to the Granbury editor.

"When he asked that question," said Editor Crawford, "we just stood and looked at him. We were dumbfounded and couldn't answer his question."

With the new year less than 4 months off, many predict that 1946 will be one of the hottest political years Texas has had within a decade.

A long list, including W. Lee O'Daniel, has been mentioned for Governor, and we have heard of at least one prospect for a county office.

The old saying that it makes a great deal of difference "Whose ox is being gored" is brought to mind in the following article from the Texas Outlook, entitled, "Have You Noticed?":

When the other fellow acts that way, he is ugly; when you do, it it nerves.

When the other fellow is set in his ways, he is stubborn; when you are, it is just firmness.

When the other fellow doesn't like your friends, he is prejudiced; when you don't like his, you are a good judge of human nature.

When the other fellow tries to treat someone especially well, he is playing politics; when you try the same thing, you are considerate.

When the other fellow picks flaws in things, he is cranky; when you do, you are discriminating.

When the other fellow says what he thinks, he is spiteful; when you do, you are discriminating.

Face powder has brought an end to more single men than gun powder.

Rev. L. Stanley Jeffrey, for several years pastor of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church here and St. John's Episcopal Church in Brownwood, has resigned to accept the pastorate of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Charleston, South Carolina.

Rev. Jeffrey, a native of England, is an excellent preacher and is highly educated, as are all ministers of the Episcopal church.

It is Christmas shopping time for overseas servicemen. The period from September 15 to October 15 is the only time you can mail a package overseas without a written request from the service man.

Perhaps you might think that the population would decrease during the war, but such was not the case in the United States. During the last five years, the population has increased more than 8 million, bringing the total to 139,682,900.

The increase in the population of the United States for the last five years was nearly twice that of the five preceding years.

Statistics show that there are always more babies born during war times.

Many people have thought that with the ending of World War II, that there would be no more holidays on Armistice Day, November 11, which marked the end of the First World War, but President Truman by proclamation has called for November 11, 1945 to be observed as a holiday.

Kay Kimbell of the Kimbell Milling Company of Fort Worth has bought the controlling interest in the Walker-Smith Wholesale Grocery which has headquarters at Brownwood and businesses in 15 other towns, including Dublin. It has not been announced whether or not the headquarters will remain in Brownwood.

There were 35 divorces in Brown County during August, just 3 less than the number of marriage licenses issued.

If a bill now pending in Congress is passed to provide for socialized medicine, there will be a tax of 8 percent on all salaries up to $3600 and a tax of 5 percent on business income of individuals to meet the expense, says an article sent out by the State Medical Association.

We do not know just what the provisions of the proposed socialized medicine bill are, but in most European countries where they had adopted it before the war, it provided for free medical treatment and free hospitalization under certain restrictions and limitations.

As we understand it, many of the doctors and surgeons, if the program is adopted, would be on salaries paid by the Government.

The State Medical Association and most doctors and physicians as well as most drug stores are opposed to the proposed socialized medical program. The public at large seems so far to have given the bill little consideration.

The Eastland School Board has appropriated $2400 to repair the high school football field, but will not install lights until 1946.

A. H. Smith, superintendent of the Goldthwaite School System for the past 12 years, has resigned to accept a position with the Intelligence Division of the U. S. Treasury Department at San Antonio. O. B. Hale, principal has been appointed acting superintendent.

Baylor University, which has not had a football team since 1941, has 90 men out for fall practice, including many of the leading high school football stars for the past two years.

Diabetes took an increasing number of deaths in Texas during 1944 according to Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, who said it was most common among people of middle age and among the so-called "white collar" workers.

Testifying as to the cause of the increase in juvenile delinquency in Fort Worth, Superintendent Green of the Fort Worth Schools, said juvenile delinquency can be traced directly to a lack of proper supervision in the homes. The school for the most part, is not to blame, he said.

Too much money is not good for children, said Superintendent

COUNTY FARMERS BELIEVE IN SOIL CONSERVATION

From the interest being shown in 1945 we think the amount of soil conservation practices being carried out this year will exceed those of previous years. This was a statement by A. E. Boyd, Chairman of the Comanche County AAA Committee. The extent of practices carried out last year are only a small percent of the conservation work needed in Comanche County. Congress has made available funds to assist farmers in carrying out these much needed practices. Comanche County farmers should go to the AAA office and find out how much you can earn. If it is inconvenient for you to visit the county office, see your community committeeman.

Farmers are turning more and more to green manure cover crops to boost their acre yields and to protect their fields against erosion, according to E. L. Pierson, Secty. to the Comanche County AAA Committee.

Comanche County farmers last year planted 70,000 pounds of Austrian Winter peas and 30,000 pounds of Vetch. The Experiment station tests show that the systematic return of organic matter to the soil is vital to good soil management. Probably the most important one of these fertility-restoring practices is growing grasses and legumes for rotation. Besides adding organic matter to the soil, legumes provide nitrogen. They prevent leaching of plant food elements as well as furnish winter pasture for livestock in some areas.

There are ample supplies of Austrian Winter Peas and common vetch for farmers to carry out an even bigger green manure and cover crop program this fall and winter. So, if you're not already carrying out this practice on your farm, maybe you'd like to talk it over with one of your county or community committeeman or call by the AAA office.

Two cars of Austrian Winter Peas, (140,000 pounds) have been received by dealers in Comanche County. These peas have been distributed to 192 farmers. Another car of peas is due to arrive in Comanche about September 15. These peas are furnished as a conservation service through the AAA.

Ben Loftis, Jr., Community Committeeman of RFD 1, Comanche, has already received his Austrian Winter Peas for this fall. He

Sketch of the Life Of Walter Loudermilk

Walter E. Loudermilk, 50, died in Chicago, Illinois, August 6, 1945. Funeral was conducted at the Downing Church of Christ and burial was in the Downing Cemetery. Members of the I.O.O.F. and the American Legion were pallbearers.

Mr. Loudermilk was born February 17, 195 in Erath County, Texas, moving when a child to Comanche County, settling with his parents in the Downing community. He was married February 8, 1920 to Miss Mattie Scott who survives him.

Mr. Loudermilk a veteran of World War I, is survived also by a daughter, Mrs. Ted McGinnis, and by a granddaughter, Sara Ann McGinnis; one sister, Mrs. Stella Boyett, and by four brothers, Ollie, Willie, George, and Florence Loudermilk.

A lie may not have legs to stand on, but it sure has wings to fly.

He stated that he planted 10 acres of peas last fall and followed the pea with corn. Mr. Loftis said the corn on the pea land had roasting ears on it two weeks before the corn planted in the same field and at the same time. He also has an increase in his corn yield. He is going to plant the entire field in peas this year.

Fifty-seven wheat producers made application for the all-risk wheat insurance. These applications cover 67 farms. This amount qualifies the county for insurance.

Dairy production program payments are still in effect. Payments will begin October 1st and will cover all milk, cream and butter sold during July, August and September.

Kidneys Must Work Well-

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood. If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

Gives Pointers In Culling Chickens

By County Agent R. E. Burleson

The culling plan outlined below is an effective one for most farm flocks, especially for White Leghorns. It is not hard to do, much time is not required, and best of all it is not hard on the hens.

Such a plan should be practiced often by the flock owner and if so the hens should seldom have to be handled individually. Here are the steps:

1. Pen the hens and get a good catching hook.
2. Walk quietly among the hens so as not to disturb them and keep your eye open for the culls.
3. If you spot one with a shriveled comb, pick her up and examine her.
4. If she is a low producer, cull her. If she is still in good production, turn her out to prevent repeated handling.
5. Catch and cull the early molters.
6. If you spot one with yellow pigment in the beak and shanks, examine her. Chances are she is a loafer. This step applies only to yellow skin breeds.
7. Look for those with saggy abdomens. This is a good indication of an egg organ breakdown.
8. Watch for and examine those that have a bad diarrhea.
9. If you spot a few pale and weak looking hens, get them out.
10. Keep a sharp lookout for any birds showing grey eyes. It is a wise practice to sell these, as they often indicate range paralysis.

You can do a good job culling if you look for these few things. It will save on feed, give more housing room, and cull hens will bring a good price on the market.

S/Sgt. Smallwood Completes Furlough

S/Sgt. James K. Smallwood, of Comanche, who has just completed his 30 day furlough, after returning from Europe, reprinted to Ft. Sam Houston, on August 8, for reassignment. He is now at Baer Field, Ft. Wayne, Ind., and expects to go to Alliance, Nebraska to wait for replacements.

Smallwood, a radio operator, on a C-47 and a member of the Ninth Air Force, entered service in July 1942. He spent 21 months in Europe.

While out of the States, he has been in Puerto Rico, South America, Africa, England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, Germany and Czechoslovakia.

He met with a slight accident toward the end of the war. While landing on a muddy field in France his plane and another one collided, throwing him into the radio and knocking out seven of his front teeth. A capable Army dentist replaced them.

Smallwood wears the Air Medal with two clusters, the Good Conduct Medal, the ETO ribbon with five battle stars and the Presidential Unit Citation.

His wife, the former Rilla Jane Shankle, is at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Shankle, while he is in service. His parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Smallwood and Doris, formerly of Comanche, live in Silver Valley.

FIVE BILLION DOLLAR FAMILY BUSINESS

WHEN Grandma was a farm girl, she tended the chickens, milked the cows, churned the butter (72 percent of the nation's butter was home-churned then; less than 20 percent today). When she produced more eggs and butter than the family could eat, she would trade the rest for "pin-money" or frills.

Today, Grandma's "pin-money" has become BIG money. Last year it added more than five billion dollars to the income of U. S. farmers. That's more than hogs brought in—or cattle—or sheep. Just look:

1944 Gross Farm Income
Dairy Products.....	$2,969,000,000
Poultry Products.....	2,295,000,000
Hogs.....	2,796,000,000
Cattle and Calves.....	2,607,000,000
Sheep, Lambs and Wool.....	450,000,000

And believe it or not, dairy products alone returned more money to farm families than the entire corn and wheat crops combined!

Any way you look at it, cows and chickens is a great industry. It is nation-wide, too. California and Texas are crowding close on the leaders—Wisconsin, New York, Minnesota, Iowa, and Pennsylvania. From millions of small dairy herds and chicken flocks in every state, as well as from large-scale operations, comes the enormous volume of dairy and poultry products that are such a vital source of our nation's food.

LET'S KEEP THE MACHINE IN GEAR

In these days of mechanized farming practically everyone is familiar with the gears that make the wheels of tractors, combines, and other equipment go 'round. We know that should one gear be removed or get out of line—or even if a single gear-tooth is broken—the machine won't run smoothly, if at all.

It is much the same with the livestock and meat industry. The three main gears are the producer, the processor and the retailer. When any one of these "driving gears" gets out of order, then the entire industry suffers. Coordination of their interests can contribute greatly to the smooth functioning of the industry as a whole. None of us gains by insisting too vigorously that our part of the industry is the only one which has problems that matter. We gain more by trying to look at our particular problems as they affect all of us. In other words, whatever hurts or helps the producer hurts or helps the processor and the retailer also.

The livestock and meat industry is an important part of the national economic structure. We at Swift & Company believe that we can contribute most to the welfare of America—and ourselves—by promoting harmonious practical working relations between producers, processors and retailers.

Corn COBS Help Fatten Steers

by Paul Gerlaugh
Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station

Corn cobs are worth 50% of their weight in ground shelled corn! That is the outstanding result of cattle-feeding tests conducted here, with Dr. Wise Burroughs and L. E. Kunkle. Steers fed corn-and-cob meal graded the same (mostly choice) as similar steers fed ground shelled corn. They gained as rapidly, and dressed out 60% against 61%. All rations were balanced with 2 pounds soybean meal and 4 to 5 pounds of hay per steer per day.

Incidentally, one lot of steers in the tests was fed "double cob meal" in which an extra cob was ground up with each ear of corn. And here's a surprise . . . these steers did nearly as well as those that got straight corn-and-cob meal or ground shelled corn. It may be more profitable to feed corn cobs to cattle than to burn them in the kitchen stove.

On the basis of these tests, a ton of corn-and-cob meal is just as good for fattening cattle as 1,800 pounds of ground shelled corn. And the corn-and-cob meal costs less because both time and money are saved by eliminating the shelling operation.

Martha Logan's Recipe for SKILLET DINNER

Pan fry 1 lb. bulk sausage meat with 2 tablespoons onions until brown. Pour off the drippings. Add 2 cups cooked rice, 1 1/2 cups canned tomatoes and 1/2 cup chili sauce. Blend well. Cover and cook over very low heat for 30 minutes. Do not raise the cover. Serve with lettuce salad and crusty bread. Serves 6 to 8.

CULL THE NON-LAYERS Now!

Hens in your flocks that are still producing eggs regularly in the early fall months are superior layers. They are the ones to save for breeding stock, writes H. L. Kempster, chairman of the department of poultry husbandry at the University of Missouri.

Mr. Kempster says it's easy to select the good layers. They are the hens with white bleached shanks and with old, frayed and brittle plumage. The slick hens with yellow legs and smooth feathers are the ones that should be used for poultry meat. They should be culled out of your flock to make room for mature, ready-to-lay pullets now on the range. As it doesn't pay to sell laying hens, try to examine all individuals in your flock carefully. A red comb and moist, expanded vent are sure signs of a layer. If the vent is dry, puckered and yellow, you may be certain that hen has stopped laying for some time.

ROY GUY REALLY KNOWS SHEEP

When Roy F. Guy, head lamb buyer for Swift & Company at Chicago since 1931, was a lad of 17, he answered an ad in a Kansas City newspaper. That led to his first job with Swift as a $4-a-week messenger boy. Before his first year ended, he had doubled his salary and was getting a start in calf buying. At the ripe age of 22, Roy Guy was head calf buyer at Chicago. He held this post for 10 years and then went back to the starting line to learn lamb buying. In his 46 years with Swift, Roy Guy has bought many million lambs and judged in many a show ring. But his greatest pride is in the boys he hired and trained who have made good with the Company. "I always told a new boy to be careful in choosing his Company . . . and to stay with it," he says.

SAYS SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE:

Despite Victory Used Fat Saving Must Go On!

Every woman in America should know that our country continues to face a serious fat shortage. And victory over Japan won't solve the problem immediately. We must keep on saving used fats in our kitchens!

If you have any thought that saving used fats is one of those wartime chores we can drop, now that Victory is here, please consider these facts and tell them to your neighbors.

America still needs salvaged fats. Not even at the peak of our war effort, when fats were required for mountains of shells and bombs and medicines, in addition to the ever-present need for soap, were our needs for salvaging fat greater than now. Our stocks have been drained by four long years of war, and there isn't enough on hand to meet all requirements.

Don't let "Victory psychology" blind you to this national need! If housewives stop saving fats now, the shortage will become even more critical.

Don't let a single drop of used fats go to waste! Little trimmings of fat left on the platter at the table, scraps left on plates, and even the skimmings of soups and gravies are important. It is the consistent saving of even these small amounts that counts.

Don't turn in fats that can be re-used! But some fats, such as those rendered from lamb and mutton, are not suitable for re-use. Put them immediately in the salvage can. And, with other fats, after you've got all cooking good out of them, there is always a little left. No matter how little it is, save it.

Your butcher will still give you 4¢ and 2 red points for every pound you turn in. Save consistently—save every drop you can—every day—until Uncle Sam says the job is done.

Big Spring Weekly News Scores Bill To Raise Postage Rate

The following editorial appeared in The Big Spring Weekly News on Friday, August 17. Since increase in the rate for second class mail is a measure that is of utmost interest to everyone, we reprint the editorial for our readers:

"That government bureaucrats have visions of taking over the U. S. is becoming most evident. One of the first moves is to destroy the free press. One of the wise boys has figured out a scheme to destroy the majority of the country weeklies by increasing the rate for second class mail, which to him appears a very painless manner. Here's how it works: A weekly newspaper with 2351 copies in mails averaging 1.8 ounces per copy, under the new plan would pay $528 the first year with a steady increase until at the end of the eighth year the postal charge would be $2487. Take a large weekly with 6040 copies weighing 3.5 ounces, under the new plan the postage for the first year would be $1602, with big increases each year until at the end of the eighth year the publisher would be paying $6,187. There would be no such thing as a weekly newspaper selling for $1 to $1.50 under that plan—and in fact the newspaper mortality would be startling as most publishers of weekly newspapers would throw in the sponge."

...YOUR ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES

American women know the time and labor-saving value of modern electrical appliances. Today these household helps are doubly treasured and proper care and use of these appliances are necessary to prolong their usefulness until new ones are available. Even with the end of the war at hand, getting back to full, peacetime production of electric refrigerators, washing machines, sweepers, and the many other time and labor-saving appliances will take time. So give your present appliances the care they deserve.

Here are a few hints to help you keep them working:

- KEEP THEM SERVICED... Oil them regularly as prescribed by the manufacturer; keep them properly adjusted, and when repairs are needed... take them to a competent repairman.
- KEEP THEM CLEAN... Keep surface clean with damp cloth to prevent rust. Do not dip motors and heating appliances in water. Wash lamp bulbs and reflector bowls regularly to assure maximum efficiency of lighting.
- KEEP THEM IN USE... They are your most dependable helpers... will give you more time for the "thousand and one" things women are being called upon to do during these busy times.

Fitzgerald's Iconoclast

Mr. Truman says the American people are guilty for Pearl Harbor. Mr. Truman was raised up in the Ozarks where people often whip their children, then tell them what they are whipping them for. The American people knew nothing about Pearl Harbor—at least most of them did not. How is a man going to be responsible for something he knew nothing about? They have tried to keep a cover over the thing. If someone raised up the corner of the cover, Truman, Senator Connally or Sam Rayburn were ready to pull it back down. And now the cover will be taken off and the people can examine the bargain they have bought with "blood, sweat and tears." (This has become a by word in England.)

There is something else we will find out about. This has been partly shown. When the British King and Queen came over here many of us said then we were in for a war. But it did not work out like the war lords aimed for it. It was going to be a quadruple alliance—England, France, Japan and America. They were going to whip Germany and occupy the country. Russia was to be kept out because they were afraid Russia would take over the whole thing and has. This explains why we shipped scrap iron to Japan. They were given several ships to carry it in. Japan was preparing, so the big boys thought, to help whip Germany.

In 1939 the Japanese ambassador to the United States died. There was a big to do about it. His body was cremated, maybe a forerunner of things to come. The Mr. Roosevelt sent the ashes back to Japan in a warship at a big expense to America. When the next Jap ambassador came over, the Japs sent along as good measure a woman said to be the most beautiful woman since Cleopatra and judging from her pictures in some of the Sunday sections she must have sure enough been easy to look at. The guys in Washington fell for her like rag-weeds before a cyclone. She came to assure America that Japan was our friend. She must have gotten the job done for nearly all the American fleet was sent from the Pacific to the Atlantic, ready to kill Huns as soon as war started. To make a long story short, and skipping a lot between, the rest of the fleet in the Pacific was huddled together at Pearl Harbor like ducks. When the Japs got ready to drop bombs they could not help hitting a warship. And now Mr. Truman blames the American people for all that. But if the American people keep the cover on after the shouting is all over? There are often as big suckers at the head of a government as there are in any little pond.

A friend has written he has a pear tree that to the best of his knowledge is seventy years old. It grows up tall, the pears get ripe in June. They are large red checked and rot at a day or two. He would like the name of this pear tree. It has about a dozen names—Early Harvest is one of them, but Jefferson seems to be the most popular. Thomas Jefferson had this pear in his orchard at Monticello and I understand there is a tree there still alive.

There is also said to be another tree of it nearly four hundred years old in New York. There is another noted pear tree in New York. At one time there were two of the latter trees in this country. It is often called the Pound Pear because the fruits get all out of reason in size. Often get as big as the ordinary cantaloupe. They are woody and of not much value when you can get other good pears. The Pound Pear has been traced back to before the time of Christ, so they say.

Well, I am still working on the book. The Ghost of the McDow. I am not only trying to tell about the ghost but about the happy long ago. The McDow Ghost helped one man to find five thousand dollars—an actual fact. A citizen in Comanche played a part in this story. The book will not sell for more than one dollar and I am sure you will be able to get a lot of fun out of it.
